MILES M. REYNOLDS ASSIGNS.

Tight Money and Slow Collections Force Him to the Wall—Assets and Liabilities.

Late yesterday afternoon Miles M. Reynolds, lumber dealer, at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Penn street, made an assignment for the benefit of all his creditors. The assignment is made to James A. Wildman, and transfers to the assignee four hundred and fifty pieces of real estate situated in different parts of the city, the aggregate value of which is estimated to be $17,000. In addition to the real estate transferred Reynolds assigns notes and accounts of the aggregate value of $10,000, and the stock in trade, consisting of lumber, lath, lime, sewer pipe, etc., valued at $8,000, making the total assets $35,000, nominal assets probably $5,000 greater. The personal liabilities are estimated at $16,000, and the mortgage liabilities at $8,000, making the total liabilities $24,000. W. L. Taylor, attorney for Reynolds, says the failure is due to the depression in trade and the stringency of the money market. On account of the stringent market, collections were slow, and the firm was compelled to take some real estate in payment of indebtedness, and were not able to realize upon this property in time to meet their demands, and were forced to make the assignment to protect creditors from judgments secured by suits upon accounts. There are no preferred creditors, and the assignment was made at this time for the purpose of preventing any preference being obtained through judgment upon suit. The firm has been doing a business of about $10,000 per month until the recent depression. Attorney Taylor said that he had examined the accounts, and he thought that by judicious management the assignee would be able to pay the creditors in full. If extensions could have been secured the firm could probably have avoided the assignment.

Stabbed in the Back.

At 6 o'clock last evening George Harrison, a sixteen-year-old colored boy, residing at No. 191 West Ohio street, was brought to the City Dispensary suffering from a knife stab in the back. On examination the physicians found that the knife had entered between the ribs, making a painful but not dangerous wound. The youth claimed that he had been quarreling with another negro, who he named "Boston Jones," over an old hat, and that the latter had attacked him with a knife. He was sent to his home after his wound had been dressed. "Boston Jones" has not yet been arrested.

TWO CONTRACTORS SETTLE

But Those Included in the Association Decline to Come to Strikers Terms.

Doe and Bruner Agree to Nine Hours, at $1.65

—Teamsters' Union Calls Out the Street-Railroad Laborers.

TWO OF THE CONTRACTORS SETTLE.

Doe & Co. and A. Bruner & Co. Agree to a Nine-Hour Day at $1.65.

The differences between the striking members of the Teamsters' and Shovelers' Union and contractors Doe and Sullivan, of the Alabama-street sewer, and Bruner, who has a number of jobs in various parts of the city, have been settled.

The contractors have agreed to pay $1.65 for a day of nine hours, and the members of the union have agreed to work nine hours for that sum and have withdrawn their demand for eight hours. The settlement was made about 9 o'clock yesterday morning at Union Hall, opposite the courthouse, and the signature of Mayor Sullivan appears as witness to it.

The agreement entered into between the parties named does not apply generally to the contractors of the city. The contractors named do not belong to the Contractors' Club, and the members of it say that whatever these men may do does not in any way influence them. The situation over the city yesterday was one of pretty general quiet. The strikers have won a partial victory with two of the contractors, but with the others they have made no headway.

Early yesterday morning a large crowd of the street workmen gathered around the union hall, where it had been promised them that a settlement would be reached. They stood around the door and out on the sidewalk, and seemed blindly impressed with the idea that had been inculcated into them by their leaders, which was that they had to ask for what they wanted, and it would be given to them. It had been announced that Mayor Sullivan would be present at the morning meeting, and all were anxiously waiting for him. He came about 9 o'clock, being driven up in a closed carriage, and went at once to the hall. He was, possibly, the only man who was admitted within the doors without being a member of the union, even those who applied for admission being compelled to give the countersign and show his membership card before he was given access.

The meeting within did not last very long. Speeches were made by members of the union and those representing the contractors, and the result was the drawing up of the following resolutions, which were signed by all interested:

Agreement made this 17th day of May, 1893, between Charles Doe & Co., A. Bruner & Co. and the Teamsters', Shovelers' and Street Pavers' Union, witnesses:

That said Charles Doe & Co. and A. Bruner & Co. will pay their common labor the sum of $1.65 per day, said day to consist of nine hours. This agreement shall be in force during 1893. It is further understood, everything else being equal, that preference shall be given to union labor.

This agreement is binding when approved by the Teamsters' and Shovelers' and Street Pavers' Union of Indianapolis. This agreement, when approved, shall be returned to Mayor Sullivan for safe keeping.

Witness: THOMAS L. SULLIVAN, A. BRUNER.

When this had been settled the men poured down and out of the hall, and it was but a short time until they were at the various places applying for work. The men who were wanted were employed on the Alabama-street sewer, and the same was true of the East-street one. All were glad that the strike was over, and that they had the privilege of going to work again. At noon, yesterday, over a hundred men were at work at Alabama street, and nearly that many were shoveling the dirt out of the East-street trench.

Other Contractors Continue on the Old Scale. The agreement entered into between the strikers and Messrs. Doe, Sullivan and Bruner, contractors, is not in any way binding on the contractors of the other jobs of work in the city, and the latter want it expressly understood as such. Manager Kenyon, of the Western Paving Company, yesterday had all of the men working on the Circle-street improvement that he could well take care of, and Frank Shover, who has the contract for the grading, had more teams at work than he has been able to get during the season. Men and teams worked ten hours, and the contractors say they will work ten hours or they will not work at all.

The men returned to work yesterday on the North New Jersey-street asphalt improvement, which is being done by the Warren-Scharf company. In the neighborhood of seventy-five men left their tools there on Tuesday night, at the behest of the union, and said that they would not return. Their places were very nearly filled yesterday, and everything is progressing smoothly.

Nicolas, Fulmer & Seibert, who have the contract for the State ditch sewer, were working more men yesterday than they have before this season. Their men quit to a man when the strike was ordered, but they had no difficulty in filling their places, some of the old men being the ones who applied for work.

A large force of men and a number of teams are engaged in the work of grading the bank of Fall creek at Fleming & Roswell's addition north of the city. They are nearly all union men and have been receiving union wages, but have evinced no desire to quit. Contractor Sam Forrest has a large force of men employed on Shelby street, outside of the city limits, and they have all remained faithful.

MOVING UPON PRIVATE EMPLOYERS.

Laborers Employed by the Street-Car Company Called Out by the Union.

About one hundred men employed by contractor McNally, who is doing the work for the Citizens' Street-railroad Company, left their shovels and picks lying on the ground yesterday morning, and announced that they had struck. Just before they did so a couple of men appeared on the scene, were seen to talk to the men for a few minutes, and then left. Before their backs were turned the men walked out. These men were representatives from the Teamsters' and Shovelers' Union, and they asked the men to come out to help those who were working on the public improvement up town.

There was little or no demonstration about it. The men just quietly laid down their tools and walked away. They did not even make any demand. They had been working ten hours a day, and had been getting for it $1.60. Contractor McNally is not of the belief that it will seriously delay the work in which he is engaged. There were a few men who did not leave him, and he does not anticipate any trouble in getting on. At no other place on the work of the Citizens' company did any men leave work.

CRIPPLE WHO MADE A HARD FIGHT.

Legless Man Who Cleaned Out His Stepfather and Two Other Men.

William Martin was arrested, yesterday afternoon, by Sheriff Emmet, upon a grand jury warrant, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill William Penny, his stepfather. The assault is alleged to have been committed last February, at the home of Martin, on Springfield street, in Indiana. Martin is a cripple, having both legs off just below the knees. He says that his stepfather owed him $7.50, and immediately after pension day, when Penny had drawn $18 pension, he Martin asked him for the money, which day, it seems, riled the elderly gentleman to an unusual degree.

Martin says that his stepfather, in company with a man named Shea and a brother of Martin's, came to the house on Springfield street, and, while intoxicated, attempted to break the door in and were driven off by him. He says that the wound which Penny received in the side, from a knife, was inflicted by one of his companions in a fight in the street in front of Martin's house. Martin was arrested and arraigned in the Police Court at the time, and the case against him was dismissed.

MEETING OF THE PHILOLOGISTS.

The Indiana Society Discusses the Manner of Teaching English Grammar.

The Indiana Philologist Society opened its semi-annual meeting at the Bates last night, with an attendance of about fifteen members. The nature of the meeting partook of an informal discussion on the methods of teaching English grammar. The trend of the discussion showed that the majority of the members thought the English grammar, strictly speaking, was very defective, and that it would be much better to take up the thorough study of English grammar only after the student had made certain progress with other languages. The inductive method of teaching this subject, a student is taught to analyze the grammar of an ordinary conversation was favored. Prof. Edwin Post, of Franklin, E. W. Mann of E. Karsten, Edwin Post, of DePauw; Horace C. Hoffman, of Bloomington; H. B. Langdon, of DePauw; C. H. Hall, of Franklin; Prof. G. E. Karsten, of Bloomington, and I. C. Howe, of Bloomington, and others.

The society will meet again this morning, at 9 o'clock, in the clubroom of the Bates. The nature of the papers are announced to be read: "Germanic Etymologies," by Gustaf E. Karsten, Bloomington; "The Greek Word EXTOAST," by H. R. Schell, Irvington; "Zola," by E. F. Baillet, Bloomington; "The Virgilian Similes of Aen. I-VI," by Ella Adams-Moore, Greencastle; "Formal Transitions in Language," by Gustaf E. Karsten, Bloomington; "Cleanings from Sophocles' Philoctetes," by C. H. Hall, Franklin; "M. Goun's System of Modern Language Teaching," by J. A. Wagoner, Greencastle; "The Plane Tree (PLATANUS) of Greece," by H. A. Hoffman, Bloomington.

WATER WAS NOT DEEP ENOUGH.

Why Mary Reagan's Effort at Suicide Proved a Dismal Failure.

"Sketch" Hollings, an employee of the ice company at North Indianapolis, was on his way home to dinner yesterday when his attention was attracted by the cries of a woman from the canal beneath the Armstrong-street bridge. He discovered a woman struggling in the water, almost exhausted. The water was but four or five feet deep, and Hollings soon had the dripping figure upon the bank. The woman gave the name of Mary Reagan, and said that she had thrown herself from the bridge with the intention of seeking a watery grave below, but found that the canal was not deep enough to drown her. She evinced a disposition to try the experiment again, but was taken in charge by a family living near by, and detained until the police could be notified.

Captain Quigley and Sergeant Lowe drove out and brought her to police headquarters, where it was learned that she had been an inmate of the poor farm.

Another Futile Effort.

Mollie Phillips, a married woman, living with her husband, at No. 36 Eddy street, has, of late, become much dissatisfied with her domestic surroundings, and yesterday morning, decided to end it all. She swallowed a dose of morphine amounting to ten grains, but her husband suspected something was wrong and hastily informed the city Dispensary of his wife's act. Dr. Ferrell went at once to the house and found the woman unconscious, but by the use of strong antidotes saved her life. Mrs. Phillips is but little over thirty years of age, while her husband is between fifty and sixty. It is thought that a quarrel which she had with the latter, yesterday morning, prompted her to seek relief in death.

ODD FELLOWS' GRAND LODGE.

Semi-Annual Session Concluded—New Officers Nominated.

The concluding day's session of the Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge yesterday was one occupied principally by routine proceedings. Officers, to be elected next November, were nominated as follows:

 Deputy Grand Master—M. A. Chipman, of Anderson.
 Grand Warden—H. L. Williamson, of Fort Wayne.

McDonald, of Columbus; C. F. Frey, of Seymour; Edwin Farrer, of Rushville; J. E. Edmondson, of Bloomington; George Shirle, of Newville.
 Grand Secretary—T. F. Foster, of Indianapolis.

 Grand Representative—E. G. Hozate, of Danville.
 Trustees—George Shirle, of Noblesville; G. P. Anderson, J. A. Ferguson and J. F. Wallick, of Indianapolis.

The controversy between Kokomo and Wildman lodges, which has been on the docket for a long time, was disposed of by granting Wildman Lodge a new charter and giving it an order on Kokomo Lodge for all the literature they possess which belongs to the Wildman Lodge. An appeal was taken by the Kokomo Lodge to the Sovereign Grand Lodge at Milwaukee. Five hundred dollars was appropriated for the assistance of the Indiana Odd Fellows' Resolutions on the death of J. T. Conner, E. P. Conner, conducted. Last night the degree of Patriarch Militant was conferred on W. H. Talbot and George Anderson, E. P. Conner, of the Indianapolis Lodge, had on Virginia avenue.

ACCIDENTS AT FIRES.

William Tobin and Dr. Earp Both Fatally Injured Yesterday.

William Tobin, second assistant fire chief, was seriously injured yesterday morning while hastening to the blaze at No. 194 Michigan avenue. Tobin rode out from headquarters on the ladder truck and on reaching the scene of the flames jumped off the wagon just as Assistant Chief Barrett drove up at a hot pace. Tobin was unable to get out of the way and was struck and knocked down by the chief's horse. As he fell the animal stumbled and landed with his knees on the prostrate man's chest. The injured man was sent home and Dr. Earp, fire surgeon, was called. The physician hopes to have his patient about again in a few days. Later in the day Dr. Earp was painfully bruised by being thrown from his buggy on Michigan street, while driving to a fire on West North street. The Doctor and Police Commissioner Catterton were in the vehicle and attempted to make a hurried turn from Illinois street to Michigan. Unluckily a horse-wagon met the buggy as it swerved around the corner and the occupants were spilled to the street. Mr. Catterton escaped with slight bruises, but Dr. Earp was badly bruised by the fall and it was necessary to take him to his home, at No. 233 North Illinois street.

Small Fires.

The fire department was called to No. 124 Michigan avenue, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, by a small blaze in the house occupied by George Waldron. The loss was slight. An hour later a small fire originated in a shed at the rear of No. 619 North Meridian street, and communicated to a kitchen adjoining, No. 621, owned by L. Burham. By smart work the fireman saved the buildings with a loss of $50. At 12:30 a bundle of excelsior in the cellar of the brick residence at No. 257 West North street caught fire and caused a scare without loss.

Free Baths.

At 4:30 this afternoon a meeting in the interest of the erection of public baths will be held at the charity rooms of Plymouth Church. All interested in the movement are requested to attend.

ENCAMPMENT ARRANGEMENTS.

Floral Emblems to Be Put in the Statehouse Grounds—Model of the Kearsarge.

Early in the week a committee representing the Florists' Club submitted to the executive director of the Grand Army National Encampment suggestions of proposed designs of flower beds to be planted at some point in the central part of the city, bespeaking the summer's growth of interest in the National Encampment in Indianapolis. The designs embraced various patriotic emblems and the twenty-five corps badges of the Union army. Mr. Fortune yesterday authorized the committee to proceed with the arrangements for a part of the display, including the designs of the G. A. R. badge, fifteen feet in length, one of the W. R. C., of the same size, and a design reading, "Welcome, G. A. R." in six-foot letters, covering a space of thirty feet in length, and one of the national flag, 12 by 15 feet in size. This will be located in the south part of the Statehouse grounds, and will require several thousand plants. The work of arranging these novel flower beds will begin at once. The work will be done under the direction of the Florists' Club, the contract with them requiring that they shall give attention to the cultivation and care of the flower beds throughout the summer.

Arrangements have also been made by the executive director with Custodian Griffin, of the Statehouse, for locating on the grounds west of the Capitol the model of the Kearsarge. It is important that this should be at some central point. Washington it was located in the White House grounds, and here the grounds east of the Statehouse seem to be the most suitable in the central part of the city. The construction and rigging of the Kearsarge will occupy about two months of time, and the work on it will probably be begun about the 1st of July.

COUNTERFEITED SMALL COIN.

Joseph Counselman, of Waverly, Accused of Passing Spurious Fractional Currency.

Joseph Counselman, a resident of Waverly, Ind., was brought to the city yesterday afternoon by United States Marshal Hawkins and Major Carter, of the secret service. The prisoner was placed in jail and will be arraigned this morning before acting United States Commissioner Moore on the charge of counterfeiting.

Counselman is accused of having circulated counterfeit five-cent pieces, quarters and half dollars, and it will also be charged that he was engaged in manufacturing the spurious coin at Waverly. A small amount of had money was found in his possession, but the implements used in making the goods have not yet been secured. The prisoner has nothing to say about his arrest.

About Ten Minutes Late.

Some people are always too late. A well-known official of the city is one of them. He stood at the entrance of Crown Hill Cemetery waiting for a certain widow who had just returned from her late husband's funeral, in order to propose to her, but he was too late. Mr. Johnson, a friend of his, had fixed it all at the grave. The sadly disappointed widow hunter found consolation in that soothing comfort-bringer, "Columbia Beer," the latest product of the Home Brewing Company. On tap everywhere. Bottled by J. Ros.
